SEN. JOHNSON NOT ASKED TO HOOVER DINNER

The Capital Speculates On Ignoring of California Senator

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—President Hoover sent a letter to Senator Johnson of California today saying that "an accident had caused the Senator's name to be omitted from the list of guests to the White House dinner last night in honor of Ambassador Dawes.

Mr. Hoover wrote that directions had been given Monday to send invitations to all members of the Foreign Relations committee but that "an inadvertence occurred somewhere" which accounted for the omission of one to Senator Johnson.

The text of the letter follows:

"I was greatly distressed to learn from the press last night that you did not receive an invitation to the dinner given at the White House for Ambassadors Dawes and Guggenheim, to which the members of the Foreign Relations committee were invited. Directions to send out the invitations were given on Monday and in the hurried telephoning to Senators and settlement of other details an inadvertence occurred somewhere.

"I am most deeply pained that such an accident should have happened, with such an apparent lack of courtesy, and I hope you will accept my assurances that it was due entirely to a mistake which is most deeply regretted by all of us.

"Yours faithfully,
Herbert Hoover."

Senator Johnson issued the following statement after the letter had been made public at the White House:

"Under no circumstances would I have commented upon or discussed the incident. In the present situation, of course, it is wholly ended."

BY JAMES L. WEST.

Associated Press Staff Writer. Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Another interesting puzzle in the ever-changing pattern that adds zest to official and political life in the nation's Capital, was presented today by the failure of President Hoover to invite Senator Hiram Johnson to a White House dinner last night in honor of Ambassador Charles G. Dawes.

Every other member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee now in Washington was asked and why the President passed over his fellow Californian formed a question the answer to which was sought by officials and politicians and social leaders as well.

Senator Johnson maintained silence and the White House adhered to a time honored policy against comment either on the list of the guests invited to a social function or whose names might have been omitted. The silence seemed to sharpen the appetite for speculation with politics as the first of conjectures. Some pressed to see an effect of the Senator's opposition to the administration's policies on legislation. But others quickly rejected such an hypothesis.

Borah Invited.

Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the committee, who has stood along side of Senator Johnson in supporting the export debenture and opposing presidential authority in tariff rate making, was invited to the dinner and attended.

Another Republican independent who sat at the White House table was Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, who generally has opposed the administration in legislative matters and who also withheld support from Mr. Hoover in his campaign for the presidency.

After a luncheon conference with Mr. Hoover at his Palo Alto, Calif., home, early in the presidential campaign of last year, Senator Johnson declared for the Republican nominee in this statement to newspapermen: "I am for the Republican candidate for president. I am a Republican candidate for the Senate."

Stating that he had visited the nominee at his request, the Senator said: "I was delighted to lunch with him and to chat with him."

At that time it was evident that the Senator and the presidential candidate had disagreed on some subjects, including the question of the Boulder Canyon dam as a campaign issue.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN WERE EXAMINED BY SPECIALIST AT FREE CLINIC AT ELKS

First of Such Clinics Held Tuesday Under Elks' Auspices

The first crippled children's clinic to be held in this locality, brought out a registration of 15 children, who were taken to the Dixon Elks club house yesterday afternoon by parents to be examined. Dr. N. M. Murphy of Chicago, orthopedic specialist, accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth B. Kuhn, field secretary of the Crippled Children's Committee of the Illinois Elks' Association, were in charge of the clinic. They were assisted by Miss Mary Ramsey of the Dixon public hospital, Mrs. Jessie Burtfield, County Nurse, Mrs. Hal Roberts, City School Nurse, and Mrs. William Rusch, President H. C. Warner of the Illinois Elks Association and Guy H. Merriman, exalted Ruler of the Dixon lodge also assisted.

It was a sight never to be forgotten to see the crippled children, many of them who never had walked and a few who probably never will walk, carried into the clinic to be examined by the specialist, assisting nurses and attending physicians. Applicants were present from throughout Lee and Ogle counties and the specialist was kept busy from the time of his arrival at 1 o'clock until shortly before returning to Chicago at 5 o'clock.

Dr. Murphy gave each case his careful attention, explaining the condition to the parents and advising treatment in some cases. The clinic far exceeded the expectations of the committee of the Dixon lodge of Elks in numbers of applications for consultations and its success doubtless will result in other similar clinics being held here in the future.

The movement for crippled children of Illinois is sponsored by the Illinois Elks Association, each lodge in the state having contributed generously to the program. A statewide survey was conducted by an experienced field secretary and the clinics are now being held throughout the state. The committee of the Dixon lodge of Elks in charge of the work is composed of the following: H. C. Warner, chairman, David H. Spencer, Dr. R. L. Baird, W. P. Fearer, Oregon, Dr. T. F. Dornblaser, Amboy and Homer Mulinix, Polo.

Toastmasters Plan Enjoyable Meeting

An unusually fine program has been arranged by the program committee of the Toastmaster's Club for the regular meeting this week. A debate upon an interesting subject has been arranged and the participants therein are some of the heavyweights of the club. The club has had excellent programs from the beginning this year and the one Thursday evening will probably be an exception. The attendance has been large and a very bright outlook for the club. In the near future a debate will take place between the Dixon Club and the Moline club. To miss this meeting this week will be missing a treat.

The truck was halted by a mob which forbade its occupants to attend a union meeting.

As it retreated the truck collided with a passing car. Just as it was

HOOVER'S FIRST PROCLAMATION IS PREPARED TODAY

Calls On Nation To Return Thanks To God On Nov. 28th.

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The American people were asked to give thanks for blessings bestowed upon them during the last year in a Thanksgiving proclamation issued today by President Hoover.

In the first document of this kind he has issued, the President said assurances of peace at home and abroad had been strengthened, that the harvest had been abundant and that both capital and labor had enjoyed "an exceptional prosperity."

The proclamation set November 28 as the day of Thanksgiving. Its text follows:

By the President of the United States of America.

A Proclamation.

At this season of the year, when the harvest has been gathered in, the thoughts of our forefathers turned toward God with thanksgiving for the blessings of plenty and provision against the needs of winter. They came by custom to look to the Chief Magistrate to set apart a day of prayer and praise, wherein their thanks as a united people might be given with one voice in unison. God has greatly blessed us as a nation in the year now drawing to a close. The earth had yielded an abundant harvest in most parts of our country. The fruits of industry have been of unexampled quality and value. Both capital and labor have enjoyed an exceptional prosperity.

Assurances of peace, at home and abroad, have been strengthened and enlarged. Progress has been made in provision against preventable disasters from flood and pestilence. Enlightenment has grown apace in new revelations of scientific truth and in diffusion of knowledge. Educational opportunities have steadily enlarged. Enduring advances have been gained in the protection of the public health. Childhood is measurably more secure. New experience and new knowledge in many fields have been recorded, from which a deeper wisdom may grow. We should accept these blessings with resolution to devote them to service of Almighty God.

Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America do appoint and set aside Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of November, as a day of national thanksgiving, and do recommend that all our people on that day rest from their daily work that they should extend to others less fortunately placed, a share in their abundance, and that they gather at their accustomed places of worship, to render up thanks to Almighty God for his many blessings upon them, for his forbearance and goodness.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the United States.

Done at the City of Washington, this fifth day of November, in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty Nine, and of the Independence of the United States, the One Hundred and Fifty Fourth.

HERBERT HOOVER.

(Seal)

By the President,
Henry L. Stimson,
Secretary of State.

Paderewski Is 66: Practically Exile

Lausanne, Switzerland, Nov. 6.—Ignace Jean Paderewski, acknowledged as the world's greatest pianist, celebrated his 66th birthday here today, recuperating from an illness.

According to all reports, the musician, who has also been a soldier and statesman, is making a miraculous recovery from an operation for appendicitis followed by phlebitis in the leg.

Paderewski was born in Podolia, Poland, and rose to fame in his own country not so much as a musician but as an army leader and Premier. It was he who fostered Poland's freedom from Russia and the establishment of the Republic. Today, disagreeing with Poland's present leaders, he is almost an exile from his native land.

Three Firemen Are Hurt In Explosion

Chicago, Nov. 6.—(UP)—Three firemen were injured seriously today in an explosion at the Candy & Co. factory, manufacturers of candies.

The firemen had gone to battle a fire which broke out on a loading dock of the building. They were working in the rear when the explosion occurred.

Damage to the building was estimated at $50,000.

The injured firemen are Frank Lokars, Frank Surje and Frank Sullivan.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL WILL BE READY FOR STUDENTS AFTER VACATION FOR THANKSGIVING

Contractors Completing Work on Handsome New Building

Dixon high school students may look forward to the Thanksgiving vacation with a great deal of satisfaction, for at the conclusion of the week of rest, all of the classes will gather in the new high school building to take up their studies for the remainder of the school year. The several contractors are speeding up their operations that the building may be turned over for occupancy at this time. At the outset of the school year the board of education looked forward to occupying the new building after Thanksgiving and from present indications that plans will be realized.

The work of cleaning up the building for occupancy is now well under way. All of the floors have been laid and the second and third floors are now completed. The finishing touches are being put on the first floor. Practically all of the classroom furnishings have been installed and many of the departments are now ready for occupancy. The science laboratory department was to have been left until the last to be completed but equipment is now being installed in this section of the building.

Janitors are busy cleaning up the building while some of the contracting firms are completing their work with all possible haste. From present indications, the interior of the building will be practically completed in furnishings for the opening of the building after the Thanksgiving vacation period. On the exterior, the black dirt is being spread over the gravel fill and only a short time will be required to finish this work.

Rum Runner Sent To County Prison

James Vaccaro, alias Johnny DeRose of Chicago and Omaha, pleaded guilty to charges of possessing and transporting more than a hundred gallons of alcohol when taken before Judge William Leech in County Court yesterday afternoon on an information. He was assessed a fine of $750 and the costs and sentenced to serve 90 days in the county jail. Vaccaro was represented by Attorney Paul J. Garretto of Omaha.

Vaccaro was arrested at noon on Friday by deputies from the sheriff's office after a chase west of the city on the Lincoln Highway during which both cars raced at a 65 mile an hour clip until the heavily loaded Ford coupe driven by the Omaha alcohol runner was halted. Vaccaro admits that he is under federal indictment in Chicago where he was arrested last April and is at liberty under bonds. At the time he was engaged in "cooking out" in a Chicago alcohol plant. He had hoped to be able to "peddle" the load which he hauled through Dixon Friday to Omaha trade, he said, in order to make "some easy money."

Request Darrow To Defend Communists

New York.—(UP)—The International Labor Defense has announced that it has urged Clarence Darrow, noted lawyer, to cut short his vacation in Europe and return to this country to defend Communists held in Chicago on sedition charges.

Seven arrests already have been made at Chicago and more than a score more are threatened, according to the labor defense, which charges extortionate bail is demanded of those held.

"While the Gastonia case is being fought out in the higher courts, the Chicago sedition trial will be the next important labor struggle in the lower courts," J. Louis Engdahl, secretary of the labor organization, declared.

Darrow was chief counsel for Communists arrested in Chicago in 1929, following the so-called Palmer "red raids."

Fall Has Relapse: May Prevent Trip

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A relapse in the physical condition of Albert B. Fall, sentenced last week to serve a year in jail and pay a fine of $100,000 for accepting a bribe from Edward L. Doheny, may prevent his departure tonight for his home in El Paso, Texas.

Fall was confined to bed today under the care of a nurse.

Members of the family said that while his condition was not regarded as serious, he had weakened noticeably since his sentence was pronounced last Friday.

Son Witnesses Death Of Father; Suicide

Chicago, Nov. 6.—(AP)—When Frank Smith died—he shot himself last night—he wanted his eldest son, M. E. Smith, notified first. This son was in turn to notify the younger son, Frank, Jr., and the two of them were to break the news to Mrs. Smith.

Frank Smith, Sr., was particular about it. He sought death at the age of 61, but he wanted the news of it broken to his survivors in the manner he had devised. So he left the note.

Last night he stood beside a police call box and killed himself. Pedestrians came running. A policeman found the note. A young man pushed through the knot of people. There was a cry, and the young man tried desperately to wrest from the officer the gun that had been used in the suicide.

Just as Frank Smith, Sr., had feared, knowledge of his death came as a crushing blow to Frank Smith, Jr.

MORMONS ONCE HAD COLONY IN LEE NEAR AMBOY

Joseph Smith, Jr. Was Once Resident Of Settlement

Lee county, particularly that part lying near Amboy, was at one time rich in early Mormon history and Joseph Smith, Jr., son of the same, who aspired to become head of the faith opposing Brigham Young was a resident of the Mormon colony which flourished for a time and then faded completely out of existence. None of the buildings or the places of worship, remain to mark the location of the settlement, but some of the families are still represented in Amboy and vicinity.

A Mormon colony of considerable size, which was located at Sandwich, furnished the source of the Mormon settlement in the vicinity of Amboy, it is said. Some dissatisfied members of the faith chose to leave the Sandwich church and came west along Green river settling near Amboy. Mayor Frank D. Palmer has made a study of the Mormon colony and recalls quite clearly the names of many of the families who were a part of it. Several of these still being represented in this county. City attorney E. E. Winger possesses two valuable books, written at the time that the Mormon colony at Nauvoo flourished, when one of the officers left the faith and wrote a vicious attack upon Mormonism. It is also said that Joseph Smith at one time was arrested and tried in Dixon for an offense he had committed, while maintaining his residence in the colony near Amboy. The two volumes in Mr. Winger's possession were written by ex-members of the early Mormon faith who after leaving the church wrote attacks upon Mormonism and its leaders and are books which he prizes very highly as being very rare.

As he was dragged from the wreckage, he gasped:

"I opened the window and crawled out."

His face was burned almost beyond recognition.

Mrs. Kruse was removed to the hospital last night because of her weakened condition.

WHEN DAYS ARE SHORT

WHEN days are short and nights are long within our hearts there is no song. When winter lays its icy hands on pretty flowers and desert sands to us it seems the world's all wrong.

We see no flowers; we hear no song. We seem content to drift along. And let tomorrow bring what may, When days are short.

We miss the early bird's sweet song. We meet each day some dreary wrong. Cold skies confine our hearts in bands.

And we look out on frozen lands. Within our heart there is no song. When days are short.

Sublette Woman's Club Anniversary

The celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the Sublette Woman's club was held Thursday afternoon, October 31st, in the parlors of the Union church.

The meeting was called to order, at the usual hour, by Mrs. Frank Oster, the president, who in a few well chosen words welcomed the visitors.

After a song by the audience a brief history of the club was read by Mrs. Ella Hatch. This history was intensely interesting to the present membership body of the club and to all of the former members who attended this meeting.

A piano solo, by Mrs. Christ Ulrich of Lee Center, was appreciated by the entire audience. Mrs. Ulrich was formerly the regular pianist for the Sublette club and the Union church.

Mrs. Oster spoke earnestly of the nice spirit of helpfulness shown by the former members of the club who now live elsewhere but always seem so happy to lend their talent and ability to their old home town.

Mrs. L. N. Deutsch, prominent in club work in Dixon, Ill., gave a group of readings that were a source of inspiration to all who heard them.

Mrs. Sarah Reis, now of Dixon but until recently a resident of Sublette, delighted the audience with a piano solo.

The last number was a vocal duet by Mrs. B. H. S. Anger and Mrs. Reis with Mrs. Ulrich at the piano. The nicely blended quality of the two voices with the soft tones of the piano accompaniment made this an especially pleasing number.

The long table was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and suggestions of Halloween. Delicious hot chicken sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee were served by the House Committee. Miss Anna Erbes chairman. The immense birthday cake baked by Mrs. William Ulrich, was perfect in texture and decorated with the usual candles and the names of the elected officers of the club.

The next meeting is the annual election of officers and all members are urged to attend. Instead of the usual afternoon refreshments a noon luncheon will be served and the husbands of the members are invited to attend. The date November 14th, and place, the Union church.

Mrs. Chas. Bishop Hostess at Luncheon

Mrs. Charles Bishop was hostess at a charming bridge luncheon yesterday at her home, and is entertaining with a luncheon today, also. Yesterday there were guests for seven tables and a prettily appointed two course luncheon was served, the effective decorations emphasized in yellow. Chrysanthemums were the flowers employed.

Mrs. Herbert Nichols was awarded the favor for high honors; Mrs. W. A. McNichols received the favor for second honors and Mrs. Thos. Richards received the consolation favor.

Miss Swartz Hostess At Lovely Party

Miss Myrtle Swartz delightfully entertained last evening at her home with two tables of bridge honoring her friend, Miss Margaret Knick, who will soon become the bride of Atty. Lloyd Scriven. Autumn flowers graced the parlors of the Swartz home. At bridge Mrs. Alexander

Afterward the guests were invited to the dining room where they were seated at one large table where a daintily appointed two course luncheon was served, the decorations being very pretty in orchid chrysanthemums and cream colored tapers. The guest and hostess joined in the presentation of a pretty guest gift to Miss Knick. Miss Zella Swartz who teaches school in Morrison was in attendance at the party.

Fulfs Reunion Much Enjoyed

Mrs. Hermina Gerken of Sterling was hostess at a charming dinner on Sunday, at her home, which was the Fulfs residence about thirty years ago.

A delicious course dinner was served at a beautifully appointed dinner table. Puck and white were the colors featured in the decorations.

John R. Fulfs of Pullman, Wash., was the honor guest, as he is soon to leave for his home, after a delightful visit with relatives here. The other guests present at the happy affair included Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Fulfs of Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Fulfs, son Wilbur and daughter Miss Ruth of Dixon; Mrs. Anna Hecker and son Glenn of Amboy; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gerken and daughter Wilma of Sterling; Mrs. Hermina Gerken and son Hugo, and daughters Miss Catherine and Helen, who is a nurse at the Sterling Public Hospital.

After lunch, which consisted of ice cream and cake, all departed for their respective homes hoping that the reunion will be an annual occasion.

FANS WILL SEE "MUM" SHOW—

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 6—(AP)—Football fans who journey to the University of Illinois Nov. 9 to see the Army game will also have an opportunity to view the University's 18th annual chrysanthemum show.

Varieties developed by students in floriculture will be one of the features of the display. Of the 343 different varieties of "Mums" in the last year's show, nearly 40 per cent had been developed at the University.

In addition, the three classes—pompons, anemones and singles of the small flowered type of chrysanthemums will be displayed.

Red Rose Found Beneath the Snow

Miss Wintrobe brought to this office a red rose on Saturday that measured four inches across. This rose was found beneath the snow in perfect condition. It was very unusual to have the roses blooming at this season of the year and surely it must be a hardy plant to withstand the chill of the snow and ice. Many viewed this rose at the Reporter office.—Mendota Reporter.

Apple Tree in Bloom

And today we all read of an apple tree in bloom in Indiana. buds and blooms, and leaves from last year all on one bough.

And in many gardens in Dixon right now there are blooming the late chrysanthemums, not so large, but colorful blossoms, in a deep rose, yellow and white, with the fragrant spicy odor resembling evergreen. Some people say a chrysanthemum is odorless but they forget that fresh, delightful aroma like unto the pine trees in the woods in spring time.

Junior Berean Party Was Happy Affair

Saturday night the Junior Bereans of the Church of God on the north side gave a masquerade party. Very appropriate decorations for Halloween were used. Every one dressed in costume and a merry time enjoyed. Games were the features of the evening. Later refreshments were served.

Tall Models Busy With Long Skirts

BY DIANA MERWIN
 Fashion Editor

(Associated Press Feature Service)

Paris—(AP)—Long legged mannequins of 5 feet 4 and over are the pets of the Parisian couturiers this season, for they can display the new long skirted evening gowns to best advantage.

The dainty slim and slinky command the best salaries, while the flappers of yester-year, the "half-pints" so much in demand when it was the fashion to look boyish, are plying their needles in the workrooms, or have gone into the selling end of the dressmaking profession.

The plaint of the short legged mannequins is echoed by many women who complain that they cannot wear the long skirted models with success. The fact that French women are small on the average may be a deciding factor in bringing skirts back to a higher level next season.

Small French women, on the whole, are sticking doggedly to medium length evening dresses with eve nor conservatively dipped hemlines. They prefer the soft materials, the light chiffon, velvet and lace to the stiffer taffetas, faills and moire, of which most of the long flared or trained frocks are made.

WHY WAR STILL LIVES.

In the last few years the world has heard more eloquent pleas for peace than ever before in its history.

Gradually, the minds of men seem to be accepting the fact that war is an institution that must be abolished. A good bit of machinery to accomplish this has been set up. Treaties have been signed, agreements have been made, to make a repetition of what happened in 1914 less easy.

The novelists, too, have done their share. Such books as "All Quiet on the Western Front" have stripped war of its glamour, have revealed it for noncombatants in all of its filthy horror.

Yet the job is going to be hard one. We can become thoroughly convinced that war is a dreadful thing—but our emotions are still such easy prey for the war-makers! In a national crisis we are ruled by our hearts instead of our heads; and as long as that remains true it will be comparatively easy for the nations to slip into war again and again.

The latest of the war novels provides striking proof of this.

"All Else Is Folly," by Peregrine Aeland, tells the story of a line officer in a Canadian regiment, sent overseas with the first hundred thousand and serving in the trenches throughout the long years to the armistice.

This officer saw war in its most horrible guise. He saw his battalion riddled again and again at Ypres, at Vimy Ridge and along the Somme. Finally he was dreadfully wounded and put out of action for good. For months he existed in a pain-racked stupor at a base hospital. He came back to Canada a mere wreck; crippled, half blind, utterly broken in body and spirit, everlastingly disillusioned about war.

Then, a decade after the armistice, he revisited the armory of his former command in a Canadian city. A battalion kilties was just returning from drill, bag-pipes skirling, drums beating, mailed feet crashing on the pavement. And this officer, watching them and hearing the martial music, felt his blood stir again just as it had in 1914.

He knew that war was vile, horrible, blind; yet, swept away by his emotions, he knew that he would enlist at once if another war came along—would enlist because the bag-pipes and the drums and the bugles would overpower his reason and make him one of a cheering, war-bound mob of enthusiasts.

In that incident the author has put his finger on the great hope of Mars.

We can talk about the horrors of war all we please; we can satisfy our minds that war must be averted; we can tell ourselves, for years, that war is useless and futile—but all of us, to a greater or lesser extent, are helpless when the flags wave and the bands strike up.

For that reason it will be a long time before war dies. Our emotions are stronger than our brains. And our emotions are still the willing slaves of war's bright, tragically alluring trappings.

THIS PROSPERITY.

Virgil Jordan, chief economist of the National Industrial Conference Board, tells a New York audience that our present prosperity is "rather a state of mind than a fact susceptible of demonstration."

The word, prosperity, has had less real and definite meaning this past year than in any year since the war, according to Jordan. It is, far the most part, he says, "an illusion created by extraordinary financial conditions."

These are not exactly pleasant words. There will be plenty of people to disagree with them. Doubtless we shall be able to assay them more wisely when the present astounding stock market boom has run its course. Its climax may reveal to us whether conditions are fundamentally sound or otherwise.

AMUNDSEN'S MEDALS.

Roald Amundsen's vast collection of medals has been sold to defray the debts of his estate. He died in debts; and his medals now go to the King Frederick University at Oslo, Norway.

It is a rather melancholy thing to think about. Amundsen was one of the giants of his time; yet, when he died, he left nothing tangible to settle his estate except a collection of medals and decorations.

However, we need not waste much sympathy. Amundsen's name is secure enough. Medals, after all, are only things that serve to call attention to unusual exploits; and Amundsen's record will be remembered long after the medals have been entirely forgotten.

Britain proposes to bar the mentally unfit from marriage. That ought to work out pretty well if the mentally unfit can be barred from the committees that will pass upon who is or isn't mentally fit.

STORY & ILL. COCHIN—PICTURES BY KNECK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Oh, gee," said Clowdy. "Wonder what he's doing there. As like as not he's just a tired out fellow who has flopped down for a snooze. We'd better get away, I guess, before we get into a mess. Come on, let's run. He may wake up. We have no time to lose."

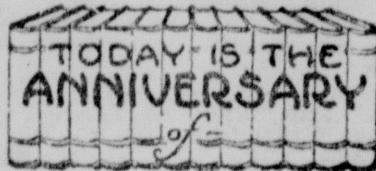

"Oh, wait," said Scouty. "Hold your ground. I'm sure that he is sleeping sound. No man could snore as loud as that if he was in a nap. Let's stay and hide and soon we'll see, when he wakes up, whom he can be. Don't get too close, however. We may walk into a trap."

This made brave Coppy laugh out loud. Said he, "I'll show this frightened crowd that I am not one bit afraid. Just keep your eyes on me. I'll walk right up beside the man and he can wake up, if he can. I'm as brave as I can be."

So, while the others stayed behind, wee Coppy, who'd made up his mind walked right up to the sleeping man. "It's safe up here," he cried. "A good long sleep he's going to take and I feel sure he won't wake. Let's look into his funny pail and see what we can find."

Quite cautiously the rest came near. They found that there was naught to fear. The man slept on and snored real loud, then rolled upon his side. Then Coppy said, "Oh, shucks, I'm going right ahead and

LINCOLN WINS ELECTION

Today is the sixty-ninth anniversary of the election of Abraham Lincoln to the presidency of the United States on Nov. 6, 1860.

Lincoln won by 120 votes, Breckinridge receiving 72, Bell 39 and Douglas 12. The election was strictly sectional for the Republicans got no electoral vote in a southern state.

The year closed in gloom for those who hoped for peace and in February a Southern Confederacy was formed by delegates meeting in Montgomery, Ala.

On Feb. 18, Jeff Davis was inaugurated president of the Confederacy.

After Lincoln's inauguration on March 4, he denied the right of any state or number of states to go out of the Union. In the south the address was regarded as practically a declaration of war.

Less than six weeks later the Confederates bombarded Fort Sumter in Charleston harbor and the Civil War was on.

"TIGER" CREDITS CALESTHENICS IN FIGHT FOR HEALTH

Advises His Doctors To Practice Them To Live Long

Paris—(UP)—Georges Clemenceau, the aged "Tiger" of France, whose vigor at 88 has brought him through his recent critical heart attack, is firmly convinced that gymnastics has been of great value in keeping him strong.

The recent episode in which Clemenceau, convalescing from a heart attack which almost killed him, secretly indulged in calisthenics and was caught at it by his doctors, brought to light interesting facts concerning the former Premier's physical habits. The doctors banished his instructor and have forbidden the patient to indulge further in strenuous calisthenics.

Clemenceau, however, is firmly convinced of their value, and voluntarily gave his teacher a signed testimonial which said:

"Without gymnastics for the last 28 years I wouldn't be here."

When he started exercising, Clemenceau had dilation of the stomach. He approached his teacher, Edouard LeRoy, and asked:

"I have suffered for ten years and the doctors pronounce me incurable; can you make me over?"

Thereafter, for a half hour daily, even in the exhausting and busy days of the war, Clemenceau was directed by his teacher in breathing exercises, leg movements and ordinary routine gymnastics.

At first he exercised fully dressed, often stopping between movements to carry on urgent business. LeRoy insisted, however, and eventually prevailed on Clemenceau to do so successfully his color and the garments, and lately the old man has exercised in his undershirt.

Clemenceau sought to convince Doctors Laubry, Degennes and Florent during his recent illness that they ought to take the exercises. Slapping his own thighs, he would exclaim:

"They're hard, aren't they? They're real legs. You haven't such good ones."

RETURN MATCH FOR MANDELL IS CONSIDERED SURE

Promoter Harmon Will Probably Arrange
Another Fight

Chicago, Nov. 6. —(AP)—So satisfactory was the 10 round bout between Sammy Mandell and Jimmy McLarnin Monday night that Paddy Harmon, boxing impresario of the Chicago Stadium, is seeking a return match between the pair.

The State Boxing Commission revealed 19,334 fans paid $88,697.19 to see the Vancouver Irishman win the decision from the lightweight champion. It was the most successful fight attraction, financially and from the fans standpoint, ever staged indoors in Chicago.

BY BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Nov. 6. —(UPI)—Having proven that he is good enough to beat the man who was considered the "logical opponent," Irish Jimmy McLarnin today clamored for a title match with Jackie Fields, the welterweight champion.

McLarnin slugged his way to a ten round decision over lightweight champion Sammy Mandell Monday night and in doing so defeated the man whom middlewestern promoters were trying to build up for a match with Fields.

Out here it was believed that Mandell, while he weighs but slightly more than the 135 pound lightweight limit, could beat any man in the welterweight division and it is safe to say that he still would be a favorite to win from Fields.

But McLarnin decisively defeated Sammy and for that reason Jimmy believes he is entitled to a championship match with the welterweight title-holder.

The opinion prevails here that McLarnin can beat Fields.

Jimmy, a slugger who gives and takes, certainly showed more ability in the Mandell fight than Fields ever has shown here. Mandell had beaten Fields before Jackie won the 147 pound title, and he was a 7-5 favorite to win from McLarnin, but Jimmy upset the odds.

Riot Bothered Negro
Fields won the welterweight title by beating Joe Dundee, a "washed up" fighter who was at least an even bet to lose to two or three of the welterweights. Perhaps Jackie's greatest fight was against young Jack Thompson, a Negro who was outpointed here but there are many persons who still believe that had there not been a riot, which had Thompson scared during the final rounds, in the Chicago Coliseum that night Fields might not have won.

Mandell, disappointed with his loss Monday night it was the first time since preliminary days he ever had seen an opponent win a decision from him; wants a return match with McLarnin and in all probability he will be obliged.

Sammy and Jimmy drew one of the greatest houses the Chicago Stadium has seen and so close was their fight that promoter Paddy Harmon is not likely to overlook rematching them.

Result Surprise
McLarnin surprised everyone by taking the decision. Before the fight the odds were 7-5 against him but there was little betting at those figures. Everyone thought Mandell would win if the fight went the limit and the bout was close enough for Mandell to win the favor of one of the judges but the referee and another judge voted against him.

There was more wagering at 1-2 that McLarnin would win by a knockout. The fans believed that Jimmy had a chance to knock the lightweight champion but they didn't think that a welterweight in the world could take a decision over Mandell. Jimmy showed them differently.

If the two are re-matched Mandell probably will put on three or four pounds the he was outweighed by six pounds Monday night and if he does that McLarnin will have a hard time winning.

THE A B C D OF VITAMINS
By Roger S. Dennett, M. D.,
Professor, N. Y. Post-Graduate
Medical School and Hospital,
New York, N. Y.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

The average mother has a keen sense of duty toward her children, and it is only her lack of knowledge when this duty is first thrust upon her, that prevents her from bringing up the baby in model fashion. The baby whose digestion is ruined by wrong feeding may grow up to be a dyspeptic adult, who can neither do his share of work in the world nor receive his share of pleasure out of it.

Proper diet is of the utmost importance to everyone. Therefore supply the body with substances known as vitamins in addition to the regular food elements. Science now recognizes five different vitamins, but the first four may be considered the most important. A, B, C, and D each possess definite parts to play in nutrition and proper growth, and one vitamin may not be substituted for another.

Vitamin A has a most important influence on growth and the general proper development of bone and muscle. It is found in the majority of animal fats, such as cream, egg yolk, cod liver oil, and in the leaves of green vegetables.

Vitamin B is found in the germ of grains and seeds, in yeast, nuts and to a certain extent in milk, fruit juices and some green vegetables. This vitamin is best supplied to the young child in cereals and breadstuffs which have not been too finely milled. The symptoms of Vitamin B deficiency are loss of appetite, failure to grow inability to digest the food properly, sluggish bowels, decrease in resistance to disease.

Vitamin C occurs in fruit juices, particularly orange and lemon, raspberries, tomatoes and some fresh vegetable such as turnips and cabbage. In the absence of Vitamin C a condition known as scurvy occurs.

Vitamin D found chiefly in cod-liver oil along with Vitamin A, is the one which governs bone development, and the proper distribution of lime.

Supply your child with Vitamin A by giving daily one egg and the cream that is contained in a quart of milk. See that he is not starved on Vitamin B. Give him flour and cereals that contain the germ and husks of the grain, such as whole wheat and graham flour, cracked oats, brown rice, and other unrefined cereals, and feed him plenty of fresh green vegetables. Bottle fed infants who cannot digest these coarser foods may have a sugar made from the germ of wheat, which is rich in Vitamin B. Give fruits and fruit juices in plenty from infancy up to supply vitamin C, and cod-liver oil throughout the winter months for its Vitamin D.

Right eating, begun at birth and carried on through infancy and childhood, is the best possible foundation on which to build the sort of happy, useful life you pray for for your children.

Immigration Laws Prevent Mother and Son Being Reunited

By NEA Service

Laredo, Texas—Immigration laws of the United States and Mexico now bar the reunion of a mother, 110 years old, and her 60-year-old son, who have been searching for each other for 38 years.

The aged mother is Mrs. Francisca Trevino of San Antonio, Texas, and the son is Juan Hernandez of Monterrey, Mexico.

It was a touching scene enacted at the international bridge a few days ago when, neither being able to cross into the country in which the other resided, immigration officials permitted them to see each other for a few hours in a little room placed at their disposal.

As the story goes, Juan Hernandez was stolen from his parents when he was two years old. He does not remember ever seeing his real mother. Finally his foster parents told him they were not his real parents, but they thought he had a sister living in Monterrey. This was about a year ago.

The sister in Monterrey, Mrs. Maria Jesus Hernandez, aged 70, after some search, was found, and to Juan's astonishment told him his mother was living in San Antonio and was 110 years old. He was also told that he had a sister, Mrs. Sarah Hernandez Villareal of Laredo.

Because Juan could not read and write he was not permitted to enter the United States. The mother was not permitted to join him in Mexico, because of a technicality of the Mexican laws.

But immigration authorities have hearts, so all three decided to have a family reunion on the international bridge.

When the son saw his mother, he cried:

"Ah, Madre Mia."

"Jesus is good," the mother answered, and swooned.

son, Republican, re-elected mayor.

INDIANAPOLIS—Reginald Sullivan, Democrat, elected mayor.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Virginia returned to the Democratic fold in yesterday's gubernatorial election by a majority more than twice the size of that which carried it into the Republican column in the presidential election a year ago.

New York City re-elected its Democratic mayor, James J. Walker, on the crest of a tidal wave which swept before it three other candidates, Fiorello H. LaGuardia, Republican; Norman Thomas, Socialist; and Richard E. Enright, Square Deal Party nominee.

Besides these two victories, the Democrats retained a Republican drive to capture the Kentucky state legislature and saw their candidate in the single congressional contest—the twenty-first New York (Manhattan) district—forge to the front in late returns after for hours trailing the Republican, Hubert T. Delany, a Negro.

Coalition in Chicago
Almost complete returns from Chicago's municipal election indicated a decisive victory for the entire Democratic or coalition ticket consisting of ten Republicans and twelve Democrats for Superior and Circuit Court judges.

Although the Democrats held the Kentucky legislature, the Republicans re-elected the mayor of Louisville, William B. Harrison, by an unprecedented majority.

The Democrats were victorious in the mayoralty contest in Indianapolis electing Reginald Sullivan, and another Democrat, James M. Curley, elected Mayor of Boston, in a race with two other Democrats running in other and non-party tickets.

In the bitterly contested election in Detroit, Charles Bowles defeated John W. Smith for mayor in a contest conducted on non-party lines.

Charles H. Kline was re-elected mayor of Pittsburgh in a Republican sweep of that city and Allegheny county.

G. O. P. in New Jersey
Continued Republican control of the New Jersey legislature was indicated by slow returns from the elections in that state while the Democrats gained two votes in the New York State Assembly.

A majority in excess of sixty thousand was the answer of the Virginia Democratic organization to the challenge for state control of the anti-Smith Democrats under the leadership of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South and others, and the Republicans.

Joeett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National Executive committee, interpreted the result in Virginia as indicative of a turn to the Democrats in this first election since the Republican landslide of 1928.

Mayor Walker's plurality of 497,165 and the record vote of more than 166,000 for Norman Thomas, Socialist, furnished the high spots in New York City's mayoralty contest. The previous high vote for a Socialist candidate for the office was 145,332.

AT BETHEL CHURCH
Dr. Lee W. Ames of the Moody Bible Institute who is conducting the Bible Conference this week at Bethel Church is proving himself to be a Bible teacher of rare ability and insight into the Scriptures. An exceptionally interesting and illuminating study on the name "Christ" was given at last night's service.

Using as his subject, "What Think Ye of the Christ?" Mr. Ames said that Messiah and Christ mean the same. The one is a Hebrew and the other a Greek; both meaning "the anointed one." Entering into a brief study of the Old Testament teaching the offices of prophet, priest, and king, the speaker pointed out that anointing was connected with each. The prophet who spoke the words of God to the people was an anointed one. The priest, the intermediary between God and man was anointed. The king, likewise was anointed to rule. God, "Anointing conveyed authority to those who were placed into such offices and also protected." The Old Testament prophesied the coming of the Messiah, the Anointed one to whom the offices of prophet, priest, and king pointed forward.

Who is the Messiah or the Christ? Dr. Ames said, "The four Gospels identify Him. Jesus is the Christ." It was shown from the Gospel narratives that again and again they clearly stated that Jesus is the Christ, "Jesus Christ is Prophet, Priest, and King. He is God's authorized spokesman. He is God's one Priest, mediator between God and man. He is God's King. Modernism takes the attitude that Jesus is not the Christ. If He is not, then Christ cannot come. Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God. Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ?"

Following the song service tonight, which begins at 7:30, Dr. Ames will deliver a message on the subject, "The Challenge of the Present Age." The cottage prayer meeting on Thursday afternoon will meet in the home of Mrs. John Gott, Sr., 630 Willett Ave.

M. E. PRAYER MEETING
The regular Mid-Week service at the Methodist church tonight will convene at 7:15 instead of 7:30, the regular hour. The meeting will close promptly at 8:00 for a special meeting of the teachers of the Church School. A representative from the Church Board of Education from Chicago will be present to speak to the school upon the subject of the Church School curriculum.

AT BETHEL CHURCH
Dr. Lee W. Ames of the Moody Bible Institute who is conducting the Bible Conference this week at Bethel Church is proving himself to be a Bible teacher of rare ability and insight into the Scriptures. An exceptionally interesting and illuminating study on the name "Christ" was given at last night's service.

Using as his subject, "What Think Ye of the Christ?" Mr. Ames said that Messiah and Christ mean the same. The one is a Hebrew and the other a Greek; both meaning "the anointed one." Entering into a brief study of the Old Testament teaching the offices of prophet, priest, and king, the speaker pointed out that anointing was connected with each. The prophet who spoke the words of God to the people was an anointed one. The priest, the intermediary between God and man was anointed. The king, likewise was anointed to rule. God, "Anointing conveyed authority to those who were placed into such offices and also protected." The Old Testament prophesied the coming of the Messiah, the Anointed one to whom the offices of prophet, priest, and king pointed forward.

Who is the Messiah or the Christ? Dr. Ames said, "The four Gospels identify Him. Jesus is the Christ." It was shown from the Gospel narratives that again and again they clearly stated that Jesus is the Christ, "Jesus Christ is Prophet, Priest, and King. He is God's authorized spokesman. He is God's one Priest, mediator between God and man. He is God's King. Modernism takes the attitude that Jesus is not the Christ. If He is not, then Christ cannot come. Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God. Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ?"

Following the song service tonight, which begins at 7:30, Dr. Ames will deliver a message on the subject, "The Challenge of the Present Age." The cottage prayer meeting on Thursday afternoon will meet in the home of Mrs. John Gott, Sr., 630 Willett Ave.

RED CROSS GIRL FOR 1929

America's answer to humanity's challenge

Attractive girl artist poses for Red Cross Roll Call Poster for 1929, which is the work of Hayden Hayden.

When Hayden Hayden, distinguished artist, prepared to submit a poster in the competition for use in the 1929 Red Cross Roll Call for members, he was confronted with the problem of finding a model for the typical American girl he wished to depict.

He was fortunate in enlisting the co-operation of a young fellow artist, Miss Estelle Stokes, who had for some time been his assistant, but had graduated and after studying at the Art Students' League and with Pruett Carter, is now making a name for herself in the painting field.

Miss Stokes, an athlete and outdoor girl, has transmitted her personality into some of the posters of which she is the artist, and which adorn the highways.

The vividly colored poster of which Mr. Hayden is the artist, and which is pictured here, ranks with the best that have been accepted by the Red Cross in its annual Roll Call invitation.

EX-CHANCELLOR OF GERMANY IS DEAD AT BADEN

Fall Three Weeks Ago Resulted in Death of Maximilian

Constance, Baden, Germany, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Prince Maximilian von Baden last Imperial German Chancellor and heir to the Grand Duchy of Baden, died here today at 5:45 A. M. He was 62 years old.

Prince Maximilian had been ailing for a year from arterial trouble. About three weeks ago he had a fall indoors and broke two ribs, necessitating removal from Salem Castle his home, to the Municipal hospital where his condition grew rapidly worse.

His wife, Marie Louise, nee Duchess of Brunswick-Lueneburg, a royal Princess of Great Britain, was summoned to his bedside Saturday with their two children, 23-year-old Berchold and 27-year-old Marie Alexandra. The latter is married to Prince Wolfgang von Hesse.

He was unconscious then but on Sunday rallied and seemed better until last night when he collapsed.

He negotiated the Kaiser's abdication and the terms of the armistice which ended the World War.

Prince Max was born July 10, 1876, a nephew of the then reigning Grand Duke Frederick I. whose daughter became Queen Victoria of Sweden. He studied law at Heidelberg and Freiburg and later became commander of the Badische Dragoons.

Later he declined all military appointments as contrary to his democratic ideas, instead accepting the presidency of the Baden House of Lords where his humanitarianism is gained him a host of friends.

GRIDIRON NEWS

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Chicago, Nov. 6—(AP)—Magnificent by a trinity of colorful intersectional struggles—Harvard at Michigan, Army at Illinois, and Mississippi at Purdue—close to 300,000 fans are expected to jam Big Ten stadiums Saturday on the conference's red letter day. Nine conference teams will play on six battlefronts before the largest total audience in Big Ten history.

The most enormous throng of the day will watch Harvard make its first midwestern invasion against the Wolverines at Ann Arbor. Between 87,000 and 90,000 spectators, depending on the weather, are anticipated for that battle. The Army's invasion of Illinois will attract a sell-out crowd of 68,000, while 50,000 seem certain of viewing the Northwestern-Ohio State duel at Columbus. Chicago's victorious stand against Princeton last week has spurred the demand for duets for the Wisconsin game so that 40,000 are expected. The Iowa-Minnesota game at Iowa City, the most important of the day from the standpoint of the conference championship race, looks for 50,000 while 20,000 is the attendance figure set for the Mississippi-Purdue game.

Michigan has failed to win a conference game so far this season, but will have its strongest lineup in the field for the first time in several weeks when it tackles Harvard. Alvin Dahlem, the fleetest ball totter on the Wolverines squad and Ducky Simrall, safety man and punter, returned to the backfield last night after a long rest because of injuries; while Alstine, his injury completely healed, was back at his old post at right guard. The Maize and Blue may resort to an open running and passing game for the Crimson.

Coach Bob Zuppke of Illinois is seeking a plunger for the Army struggle. Lack of sustained line attack has been bothering the Illini most of the season. Fritz Humbert, one of the best line smashers to wear the Orange and Blue, has almost recovered from his injuries but it is doubtful whether he will start against the Cadets.

Minnesota's hopes of chasing the Iowa jinx and winning the Big Ten crown was dimmed with the revelation that its star fullback, Bronko Nagurski, had broken the thumb of his left hand in the Indiana game. The "Big Nag" expects to play, however, although his effectiveness may be handicapped.

Iowa, too, had a regular on the injured list—its veteran end, Mastroraggi, who has a bad ankle. The Hawks were impressive last night in stopping Minnesota line formations and see an opportunity of spoiling Gopher championship hopes for the second successive year.

Because of the heat of Mississippi's forward wall, Purdue may revert to a passing and open field attack against the southerners. The regular Boiler-maker backs, Welch, Yunevich, Marmeson and White, were given a rest last night while Coach Jimmie Phelan drilled the line and reserves.

Sammy Behr has encouraged Wisconsin by returning to his quarterback position after a week's absence because of injuries, while Bill Lusby, Badger punter, may get into the Chicago game, too. Chicago, meanwhile, is developing an aerial attack upon advice of scouts who reported the prowess of the Badger forward wall against Purdue and the team's weakness against the overhead attack.

Having virtually ended Illinois' two-year championship reign, Northwestern was busy preparing for Ohio State.

ON EASTERN FRONTS

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Nov. 6—(AP)—Once more football approaches the old Harvard-Princeton date Saturday with a great gap in the eastern schedule, the more apparent because of Harvard's jaunt out of this sector to meet Michigan at Ann Arbor in intersectional strife. The Army, which entertained Notre Dame at the Yankee Stadium on this date last season, will be found at Champaign arrayed against an Illinois eleven in a game for which the Illini have been pointed all season.

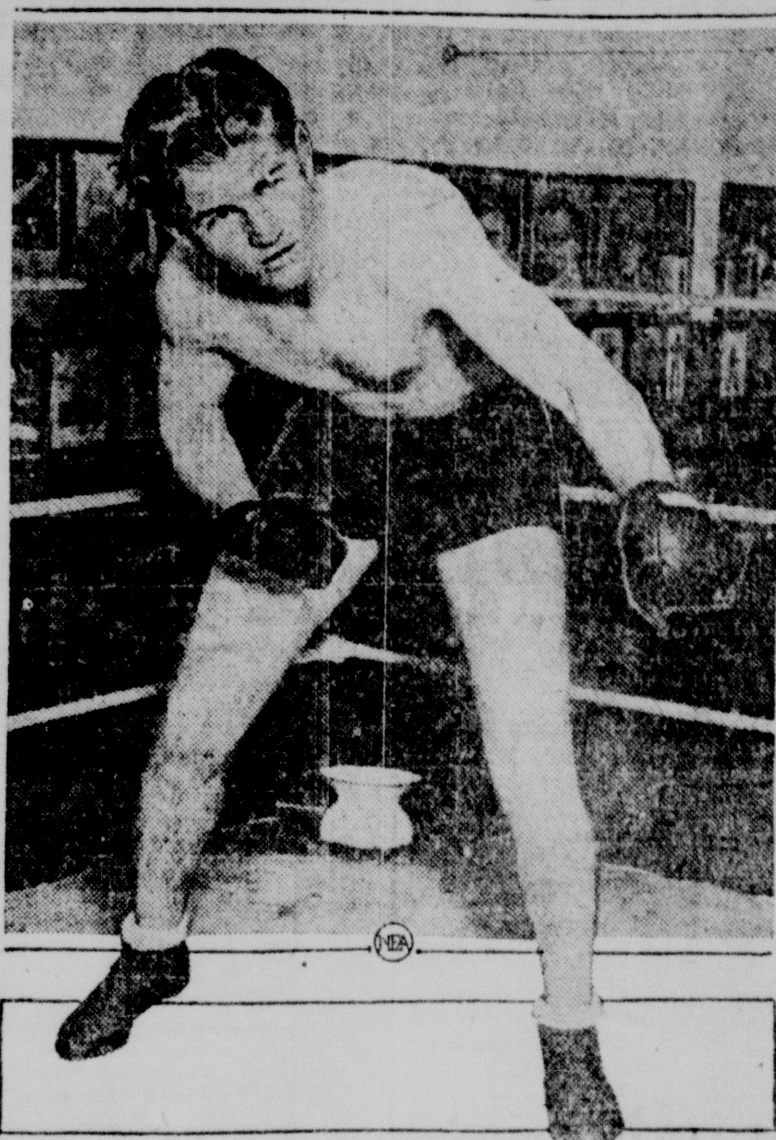

The strictly eastern program offers the greatest chance of drama at Providence, where a Dartmouth eleven mourning the loss of Alton K. Marsters for the season will struggle with Brown in the game which is to end relations between the two institutions for two years at the least. With Marsters in a Hanover hospital, the big Green team is not the cinch it appeared to be before losing to Yale.

Two important engagements will be fought in New York on Saturday, Columbia giving Colgate its first sectional test and New York University lining up against Georgia, conqueror of Yale. Columbia will do well to hold Andy Kerr's big Maroon eleven in check. Georgia is favored over the not-so-violent Violets.

A most even game should be seen at Franklin Field where two comeback attempts will crash head on as Pennsylvania meets Penn State.

Astronomers know whether a star is young or old merely by the color of its light.

Shires Turns Box Fighter

A match for talkative Jack Sharkey any day in the week is Mr. Arthur "The Great" Shires, Chicago White Sox slugging first baseman and windiest of the Windy City players who is in training prior to launching upon a heavyweight fighting career. Fired by two bare-knuckle victories over Lena Blackburne and a lop-sided decision over Lou Barbour, Shires modestly declares he'll be a wow in the heavyweight ranks. Jack Kearns, the ring's dapper doctor, has taken the Sox bad boy under his managerial wing and has scheduled several bouts for him, it is said. Appearance of the "spitometer" in the corner of the ring leads one to believe that Arthur will retain chewing tobacco in his training diet.

Sports Writers
Damned If They Do; If They Don't

By FRANK GETTY

United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 6—(UP)—The fury of a woman scorned is nothing compared with that of a football enthusiast who finds his favorite school neglected by the daily press.

The rage of your gridiron fan knows no bounds when he thumbs over to the sports section and reads about Harvard, Yale and Southern California, and "not a damline about Siwash."

The immediate assumption is that there is a conspiracy among sports writers to slight Siwash and its great triple threat, Night Watchman, "Lulu" McGuire.

The Carnegie Foundation's recent report on college athletics had quite a bit to say about the harmful effect of sports writers upon growing boys who were being exploited because of their peculiar football talents. But are the institutions of learning which by chance are spared such exploitation grateful? Just about as grateful as a man who is spared a headache because he drops and breaks a pint of pre-war rye.

Here is a sample of the gratitude in question, hot from the typewriter of the "Bureau of Public Relations" of a mid-western university.

"What's the matter with our club this fall? We're still undefeated, sitting on top of the world and left holding the sack by a lot of you fellows who could be a little more generous with the ink to an outfit which is leading the pack in football circles. 'Maybe we haven't been playing the best teams in the country but you have to give us credit for trying to book 'em."

"Don't we deserve some space?" Another booster for this same university deprecates what he construes as "a deliberate attempt on the part of the press associations" to give the school "the run-around this year."

So vehement and numerous are the advocates of "fair play" for this particular university, one is inclined to inquire as to the purpose behind their enthusiasm.

Can the Carnegie Foundation's investigators be right, after all? Does this mid-western university, which incidentally wasn't mentioned in "Bulletin No. 22," want its football team exploited for commercial reasons? Perhaps its protagonists have gone so far as to write letters to Dr. Savage, complaining about its being omitted from the report on recruiting and subsidizing of college athletes.

SPORT SLANTS

Golf expects to enjoy a big winter's business, no matter what happens in Wall Street. Some of the professionals may be distracted by the returns on the ticker tape but most of them are more interested in the big money pool for the winter tournaments.

In the campaign stretching from October to late March, from Oklahoma City out to Honolulu (back to Los Angeles, Agua Caliente, San Antonio, Miami Beach and Pinehurst), an estimated $134,550 in prize money will be at stake during the biggest open tournament season ever known through the South and West.

Comparatively few of the pros will make expenses, even with this "pot" to be apportioned among the low scorers, but that won't keep the majority from trying. Every one starts out, at least, with the idea that he may be the lucky one to bag the first prize of $15,000 in the record-breaking $25,000 tournament at Agua Caliente, the new resort just across the Southern California border in Mexico.

Leo Diegel is the "pro" at Agua Caliente and should have a galloping start on the rest of the field, if familiarity with the local situation means anything.

Even the National P. G. A. tournament, to be held at Los Angeles, offers more financial reward than ever before. Ordinarily about all the winner gets out of this event is the distinction of being national professional king. During the week of Dec. 2 to 7, however, the pros will have prize money of $10,400 as an extra inducement.

Speaking of golf, the year 1929 leaves on record some of the most astonishing scoring achievements of all time. Bobby Jones, in winning his third Open title, broke 70 for the first time since he has competed in this tournament. Glenna Collett lost a royal battle to Joyce, Webber for the British women's championship but scored a record 34 for her first nine holes.

Leo Diegel won the Canadian Open with a record-smashing total of 274 for 72 holes over the Kanawaki course. Tommy Armour's three 69s and a 70, for a total of 277, only landed him second money but the Black Scot took no chances in the Western Open at Milwaukee. He shot 65-71-69-68-273 to win there.

The most amazing scoring of the year, however, was turned in by Aubrey Boomer, the Franco-British pro who scored a 61, believe it or not, in the French professional tournament last spring. Boomer was so nervous when he sank his last putt in this super-round that he shook like a leaf, acted as though in a daze and promptly lost the tournament to Horton Smith.

This same Boomer, in the French Open in September, carded six successive rounds of 71-70-71-71-71-70 to win. He was tied at the end of the regulation 72 holes by Archie Compston but won the playoff at Fourqueaux, near St. Germain.

One or two fast-running halfbacks can quickly divert the attention of the gridiron mob. It took less than a week in the East for all talk about the famous Carnegie Foundation report to be eclipsed by debate over the relative merits of Albie Booth and Al Marsters.

Golfers Sail For
Hawaiian Tourney

San Francisco, Nov. 6—(AP)—A considerable share of America's constellation of golfing stars turned toward Honolulu today, where the Hawaiian open golf tournament November 15 will bring together the best golfers of the far east and the west.

At least a dozen nationally known players were to sail today on the liner Maui, planning to get several days practice on the course of the Waialae Country Club, where the tournament will be held.

Included among those sailing were Tommie Armour, Horton Smith, Gene Sarazen, Craig Wood, Ed Dudley, Billy Burke, Ben Coltrin, Dan Williams, Olin Dutra, Mortie Dutra, Bill McKean and Phil Taylor.

Comiskey And Bush
In Conference Today

Chicago, Nov. 6—(AP)—Baseball's "Old Roman," Charles A. Comiskey, arranged a huddle with his new manager, Donie Bush, today to map out their campaign to rebuild the White Sox.

Although 10 minor league stars, including Sneed Jolley of the San Francisco Seals, have been purchased already, Comiskey promises more purchases. It is known the White Sox are in the market for a second baseman who can do some heavy hitting, a catcher, another heavy clouting outfielder and a pair of steady pitchers.

The "Old Roman" refused to discuss current reports he was after Mark Koenig, the Yankee shortstop, and that he planned to send Bill Cissell, high priced shortstop, to Washington in exchange for a right handed pitcher, possibly Irving Hadley.

Dartmouth Star Suffers Broken Vertebra In Game With Yale

Haover, N. H., Nov. 6—(AP)—Al Marsters, star Dartmouth back, lay on a hospital cot here today, his college football games a thing of the past. He received a fractured vertebra Saturday in the Yale game.

As described by Dr. John S. F. Gile, Marsters sustained a fracture of the right transverse process at the third and fourth lumbar vertebrae. Dr. Gile said that the injury would have no permanent effect on the player but it will keep him either in the infirmary or on sidelines while his team plays Brown, Cornell and the Navy.

The doctor said he was resting comfortably and would be allowed to resume his classroom work soon. This is the star's Senior year.

Two years ago Marsters flashed on the gridiron horizon as a halfback. A big year was looked forward to for 1928 but an ankle injury kept him below par.

This year Marsters was the basis of the entire Dartmouth attack. He was shifted to quarterback.

In the six games Dartmouth has played this year, "Special Delivery" Al had scored 103 points. His performances against Yale and Harvard were especially brilliant. He was one of the outstanding broken field runners, a great forward passer and a good punter.

QUALITY so fine that half the world doesn't realize that Buick is priced so low!

It is an impressive fact that men and women are buying from two to five times as many new Buicks as any other car priced above $1200.

Moreover, during August and September, Buick monopolized its market to such a degree that it won 41% of the total sales of the 15 makes of cars in its price class.

And yet this marked preference for Buick would be still greater if all motorists realized that they can buy six of the fourteen luxurious Buick body types for less than $1300, f. o. b. factory.

These are Buicks through and through, embodying the full array of Buick quality features: Buick's new and surpassingly beautiful Bodies by Fisher; the famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine—most powerful engine of its size in the world; Buick's new Controlled Servo Enclosed Mechanical Brakes; the new Buick steering gear; new Road Shock Eliminator; and Buick's new, longer rear springs with Lovejoy Duodraulic Shock Absorbers.

The new Buick, with these features, will introduce you to new and unequalled performance, driving ease, riding comfort and reliability on any day you put it to the test. And yet these six Buick models are offered at the price of cars which motorists never think of comparing with Buick!

Visit our showroom. Bring your present car. Learn how easily you can obtain one of these new Buicks. All are available on the extremely liberal General Motors time payment plan.

In addition to these lower priced models, Buick offers eight other distinguished body types, representing the ultimate in luxury, and priced from $1465 to $1995, f. o. b. factory.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT... BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

When Death Missed Italy's Betrothed Crown Prince

A few minutes before this picture was taken a shot fired by a would-be assassin had narrowly missed Crown Prince Umberto, heir to the Italian throne, as he stood at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Brussels. Yet he was calm, unmoved when, as shown above, he chatted with a Belgian government official shortly after the unsuccessful attempt on his life.

Belgian police dealt swiftly with the young Italian radical who tried unsuccessfully to assassinate Crown Prince Umberto of Italy. Above you see the youth being dragged out by hands and feet after he had been severely beaten by spectators who captured him. Note the upraised fist of the officer at the left.

"I hope the Princess won't hear of it," said Crown Prince Umberto of Italy after an attempt had been made to assassinate him in Brussels. And here you see him with pretty Princess Marie Jose, after he had been rushed to the royal palace in the Belgian capital to assure his fiancée of his safety. She, daughter of King Albert of Belgium, will be the next Queen of Italy.

First Air Baby Now Needs Name

It wasn't an air male, as might be supposed, but a 7½ pound daughter who was born to Mrs. Margaret Evans in an airplane flying 1200 feet above Miami Fla. The mother and the baby "airman" are pictured above after the first aerial birth on record. In the "flying maternity hospital"—a large cabin plane—were nurses, a doctor, relatives of the mother, and two pilots. An aly name is being sought for the child.

VOTE FOR DEAD MAN

Waynesburg, Pa.—John L. Kuhn, of Jollytown, died two weeks before the election of a candidate for jury commissioner in Green county. Regardless of that, his name appeared on the ballots and at the election he received 335 votes, 100 more than the number received by another candidate.

MIGHT START A WAR

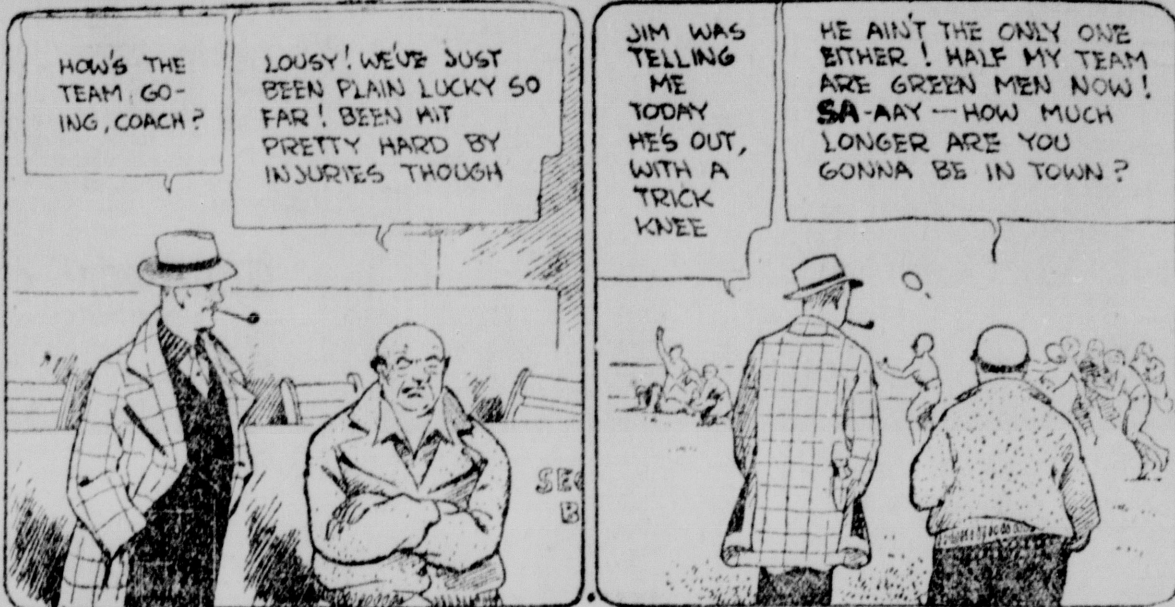

Plymouth, Ind.—Bring on all your big trees for a real battle has been started between Lebanon and Atwood, Ind., to see which has the largest tree. Recently Lebanon boasted one with a circumference of 21 feet with the first limb branching off at 50 feet. Then Atwood displayed one with a circumference of 38 feet, the first branches at 63 feet, and a total height of 120 feet.

VERY FEW CITIZENS

Rome—The Vat can, said to be the smallest state in the world, numbers only 523 citizens. Despite its smallness, a severe fine is prescribed for tariff violators. Importing and exporting is so valuable that a fine of $600 and imprisonment up to three years is levied for infringement of the law.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MRS. EMMA HOGARTH, who is said to keep her money in her room on the second floor of Mrs. Strawn's boarding house, takes a fondish delight in constantly changing her will to name a new favorite among the boarders. She is struggling to death between 11:45 and 12:15 Saturday night June 1st.

DONALD DUNDEE, young detective, who has taken a room in cognito to give Mrs. Hogarth the protection she demands in a letter written to the police, assists his chief, LIEUTENANT STRAWN, in the investigation.

Boarders at the Rhodes house are MR. and MRS. SHARP, DAISY SHEPHERD, saleswoman; WALTER STYLES, proprietor of a small haberdashery; NORMA FAIGE, his daughter; BERT STATON, amateur scenario writer; CORA PARKER, theater pianist; HENRY DOWD, newcomer out of work and DICKY, Mrs. Rhodes' worthless husband.

Strawn immediately suspects EMIL SEVIER, former boarder. He learns he left town in great excitement on the one o'clock train. Dundee, stationed behind a screen, takes notes as Strawn quizzes Dundy. He insists he was in his room the entire evening and heard nothing other than the squeaking of CAPN. Mrs. Hogarth's parrot.

Strawn next gives Cora a merciless third degree. She tells how Magnus "stood her up," of her return at 12:10 to hear him trying to get in his room, and of her burning her hand while pressing a dress. Cora denies she was engaged to Sevier, but admits his attentions to her. When Strawn demands to know why Mrs. Hogarth has cut her out of her will, Cora covers, then her eyes blaze.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI

AGAIN that blaze of anger in Cora Barker's eyes. "It's none of your business!" she choked. Then her shoulders sagged. "I'm—sorry. I suppose everything connected with Mrs. Hogarth is your business now," she conceded wearily. "Mrs. Hogarth made a new will just after Christmas, cutting Daisy Shepherd off, and naming me, for no better reason than that I had given her as a Christmas gift, a rather nicely bound diary. I—had no ulterior motive. I was not trying to cut Daisy out. But Daisy didn't give Mrs. Hogarth a present, said something about being tired of pampering the old lady. So I was Mrs. Hogarth's mistress until—some time in May, I believe it was, when she became very fond of Walter Styles, a new boarder. She was tired of me by that time, and wanted the fun of having a new heir. She didn't have much excitement in her life, and making wills was her chief indoor sport. I didn't mean that to sound—ugly. I liked Mrs. Hogarth, even after—"

"After you quarreled with her?" Strawn suggested, as Cora's words stopped on a pass.

The yellow pallor deepened. "I—don't have a quarrel with Mrs. Hogarth," she brought out the words with difficulty.

Strawn smiled, and Dundee could have struck his chief. He was very young and very sympathetic.

"But you had come home as rightfully yours, hadn't you, Miss Barker? Felt rather cheated, didn't you, when she changed her will?"

"No! No! I never expected to get it. We all knew how much she enjoyed changing her will. And I didn't need her money. I make a good salary as pianist at the Little Queen, and I also have a number of private pupils to whom I give lessons in the mornings, before the theater opens at 11. I make plenty to live on decently—"

"I congratulate you, Miss Barker," Strawn interrupted blandly. "Just one other thing, Miss Barker, before I send you to bed, for a good night's sleep, I hope. . . . Capn, the parrot, is used to your presence in this room, of course. Do you think you could coax him into a talkative mood?"

Also Lots Forty-nine (49) and Fifty (50) East Park Sub-division to the City of Sterling, Illinois, as per plat recorded in the County Recorder's Office at Morrison, Illinois, in Book 6 of Plats, on Page 38; being a subdivision of Lot Sixteen (16) of the Northeast quarter of the Northwest quarter of Section Twenty-two (22), Township Twenty-one (21) North, Range Seven (7) East of the 4th Principal Meridian, Whiteside County, Illinois, on the following terms:

BYNG ENDS HIS FIRST YEAR AT SCOTLAND YARDS

Veteran Soldier's Record Includes Cleaning-up of Night Haunts

BY ARCH RODGERS
United Press Staff Correspondent
London, Nov. 6.—(UP)—Important and unusual conferences, the first of their kind, were held at Scotland Yard today. Men famous in police history took time from their duties to congratulate their grey haired, soldierly chief, Lord Byng of Vimy. For today he completes one year as head of the Metropolitan Police.

The first year of the soldier-chief's administration of police affairs was highly active. There were revelations of graft in the policing of West End night clubs and many a door was closed that formerly opened into a world of night life carried on after official closing hours. Scotland Yard was confronted with six unsolved murders, the highest number in years. Proceedings have been taken in two of the cases, one a "shop murder" in Manchester and the other the Oliver case in Reading, in which the American actor Philip Yale drew figured. Motor bandits, smash-and-grab raiders, and window smashers were unusually active. The police, always in the public eye, received more than the usual amount of publicity.

Lord Byng offered to resign soon after he took over his police duties. There was no question of dissatisfaction on his part or on the part of his men, nor was the offer due to any of the usual troubles in such cases. Lord Byng merely thought that the new Labor government might prefer that someone else handled his job. He was informed that the Home Secretary was quite pleased to let him carry on.

New Police Boxes.
The police are engaged in the construction of a system of police boxes throughout London that should be a great aid in their fight against crime. The boxes are of metal and contain telephones, first aid material, and handcuffs for use in the event that a prisoner needs to be detained. Hundreds of these boxes will be erected at strategic points in the Metropolitan area, forming another link in police communications.

An order from the Home Office regarding the interrogation of suspected persons or prisoners is regarded by many critics as a handicap to the men of the Criminal Investigation Department. Recommendations made by the Royal Commission on Police Powers and Procedure after the investigation of the famous Savidge case are said to have restricted the police in the gentle art of obtaining the information they want. But the testimony of most any trial will show that they can still ask almost innumerable questions.

London has always been regarded as rather a safe place in which to live, and it lost none of this quality during the first year of the Byng regime. Almost unknown to the average Londoner, the city's underworld received a thorough cleaning at the hands of the Byng boys. It is safe to say that the city is content with the police administration of the famous soldier.

Football Fans Are Warned To Be Safe

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 6.—(AP)—A warning against reckless driving by motorists going to the Illinois Army football game at Urbana, on Saturday was issued today by Walter L. Moody, Chief of the State Highway Police.

"The department has no objection to drivers 'stepping along' but they must respect the rights of others," Moody declared. "No serious accidents have occurred due to football crowds this fall because the department has taken every effort to curb reckless driving."

State policemen will be stationed on all principal highways leading to Champaign-Urbana. They have orders to arrest all reckless drivers and take them before the nearest Justice of the Peace for an immediate hearing.

If a dipping compass is used at the north pole, the needle will dip vertically downward. The needle of an ordinary compass will remain stationary.

Laundry NEWS

30 tubs of water for one washing!

"No wonder our clothes are so clean!" said Mrs. S...

YOUR laundress probably thinks she is unusually sanitary if she changes the water four times. But here at our laundry we use over six hundred gallons of rainsoft water to every washing. We provide a separate washing formula for every type of fabric and every grade of color, with the proper temperatures, soaps and baths to conserve the fabrics.

That, as we explained to Mrs. S., is one reason why clothes washed our way are cleaner and last longer.
